

Silvio Zanella

Broad brushstrokes alternate with dense clusters of vibrant color, characterized by a constant control and balance of tonal timbre. His meticulous execution avoids improvisation and chance. His paintings become increasingly luminous, emitting a non-descriptive light that emanates from within the artwork itself, a product of its intrinsic qualities. His visionary figurations are shattered and fragmented into multiple parts by abstracting layers of space, accentuating the viewer's sense of unease and discomfort.